DR. PORTER A. STRATTON

Porter A. Stratton, born at Richland, New Mexico, December 31, 1918, attended public school at Portales graduating in 1937. He completed a B.A. degree in History at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque in August of 1941. The next four-and-one-half years were spent in the Army Air Corps with the 8th Air Force in England, rising in rank to First Lieutenant and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters. After leaving the Service in January 1946 Stratton joined the staff of the Portales Tribune, later becoming a co-owner. Following a long felt desire he left journalism in January 1961 to start working on a M.A. degree in History at Eastern New Mexico University and a year later entered Texas Tech to work toward a doctorate in History.

Pan American employed him as an assistant professor in History in September 1964. While at Pan American Dr. Stratton served as chairman of the Faculty Senate, 1969-79; chairman of the committee to prepare a graduate program, 1970-71; chairman of the Graduate Council, 1971-72. On May 1, 1971, he was appointed head of the Department of Social Studies, which included eight disciplines and had 37 faculty members. During the next two years he prepared and secured approval of plans for B.A. degrees in Sociology and Psychology and a M.A. degree in History. Social Studies was split into three departments in 1973 one of which was History. Stratton remained head of that department until 1978. Meanwhile, he prepared plans for a B.A. degree in Mexican American Heritage which was finally approved in 1979 and in his last year as head initiated plans for the first Pan American History conference which has been held annually since 1978. During his academic career Stratton was the author of a book, The Territorial Press of New Mexico, 1834-1912, and articles on western journalism and history.
